The Road To Success – step by step

We sometimes find implants in less than ideal positions when planning aesthetic outcomes. In such cases a super-structure with a corrective interface is indicated.

The case shown demonstrates how we construct a zirconia frame with custom abutments for each tooth. In this way awkwardly placed implants will not interfere with our desired aesthetic result.

Another great advantage: After issue alterations or repairs on individual crowns can easily be carried out without compromising the entire construction.

“We succeed by making each step a goal and each goal a step.” (C. C. Cortez)
